

M.J. CHARITABLE TRUST

Newsletter Issue 12

WHO ARE WE?

M.J. Charitable Trust is working to provide education and health services to the impoverished sections of society in India.

Dr. Ashok Kumar Jainer established the trust in 2008 to fulfil his dreams of a better society for all. This Trust provides selfless and unconditional service to the mankind. Everyone working in the Trust is committed, dedicated and working unpaid, there is no admin cost. The Trust is registered and has been awarded 80G of the income tax act of India.

VISION: A world in which everyone obtains good education and health.

MISSION: We seek a world of hope and working to ensure that kids growing up in poverty get an excellent education and health.

VALUE: Improve well being of people and convert their suffering into self-reliance. We treat them with respect, dignity, compassion and always be responsive to their needs.

OBJECTIVES

1. Provide quality assured education for children growing in poverty.
2. Provide prompt and safe health care facilities to the poor in rural areas.
3. Provide food and basic amenities for people living in slums.
4. Raising awareness of common illness in rural part of India.

MISSION EDUCATION

“Malala Yousofzai Nobel laureate believes that everyone should be able to access a safe and effective education- and this education will transform our world”

Education is the best wealth and investment for parents. It is the best gift for those who can't afford to educate their children. Education for the poor children in rural areas and residents of urban slums has been the main focus for M J Trust. Education empowers, offers employment opportunities and allows access to understanding of health care and hence results in overall improved quality of life.

M.J Charitable Trust has been working in the field of education for many years. The trust achieves this aim by sponsoring children who belong to slums in Ghaziabad and other remote areas of different part of the country including in Punjab, Kerala, and Rajasthan. It does not just include school fees, but also the books required for the curriculum and provision of school uniform. If financial assistance or transport facilities are also required to attend the school, then that is provided as well. This mission now has been extended to Africa and Asia.

GLIMPSE OF MISSION EDUCATION

Some of these children have finished their primary education, and have begun secondary education, sponsored by M.J. Charitable trust. Some young people have contacted the trust for further higher skilled training to help with employment. It will be sponsored and supported by M.J. Charitable trust. We began to see positive changes in the education field due to our work over the years. We have seen changes in the following things- a decrease in the dropout rate, increasing motivation to pursue higher studies, better results in the board/matriculate exam and an overall increase in confidence of this group, which is hard to describe in words, after the initial hurdles we faced in engaging them. Some of them finished their ITI training and secured employment, and now they are helping their families financially. We started with two children. Now, we are supporting seventy children, each year. We initiated from primary education, then moved to secondary and now also support for professional courses such as coaching for Medical /IITs etc.

Educating a boy mean educating a person however educating a girl means educating a family. We try to encourage girls educating in a remote area.

These are some of the children who are sponsored by MJ trust. They are receiving free educations at Saraswati public school Sahibabad, UP. They are living in slums and education is a dream for them and their parents. Most of them have no access to clean water, electricity and adequate living space.

SOME MORE GLIMPSES

Neelam aged 32 years is a resident of a village in the Rajpura district in Punjab, India. She lost her husband in the 2nd Stage of mouth cancer despite MJ Trust's best efforts. Her relatives also refused to take him to CMC Ludhiana for his treatment. Neelam was asked to leave her in-laws place and had to move to her mother's place who was socially disadvantaged and widow too.

She has two daughters who are 8 and 4 years old and currently works at a jewelers shop barely making ends meet. MJ trust has stepped in to support her with her daughter's expenses including school fees for the last 5 years and although we can't change destiny we can make the journey of life a bit easier.

Making three lives better.

In a remote area in Kerala, father of these two girls and one son died of renal failure. MJ Trust has been supporting them for studies from last 3 years. The daughters plan to do nursing in the future, and is being supported for it.

Dreams got a new life with MJ Foundation's help.

Deepak from Ajmer is brought up by a single mother who works as a cook in convent school is being supported for Education in St. Paul's school, Ajmer. He plans to pursue a career in a musical band.

These very bright sisters have performed very well academically met with severe financial strains to continue their education. As only earning member father met with an accident lost job. Hence MJ foundation has selected them for a monthly scholarship to encourage and facilitate their progress.

Encouraging and facilitating their progress.

Arshi was a student of Bachelor of Education. She performed exceptionally well in 12th grade, but her happiness did not last long as she could not afford her next stepping stone in her career. Her father was the only earning member who is partially blind. She is the eldest one and had to support her younger siblings and parents. MJ foundation became her family and made sure that she could fulfil her dreams. Now, she is in the final years of her training.

We helped Arshi complete her studies and make her dreams come true.
